TANISHQ malle

Crafted with uncut diamonds

Nature's Original Diamonds

Uncut diamonds are natural diamonds that preserve their organic contours, subtle lustre and unique character, shaped over billions of years.

Every Uncut Diamond. One of a Kind.

Like all things shaped by nature, no two uncut diamonds are ever alike. Their natural form and distinctive character make every stone as rare as the story it goes on to tell.

The Tanishq Art of Uncut Diamonds

Every Tanishq creation begins with the careful selection of an uncut diamond. Crafted around the natural beauty of each stone, every piece reflects Tanishq's exceptional artistry and a distinctive design philosophy.

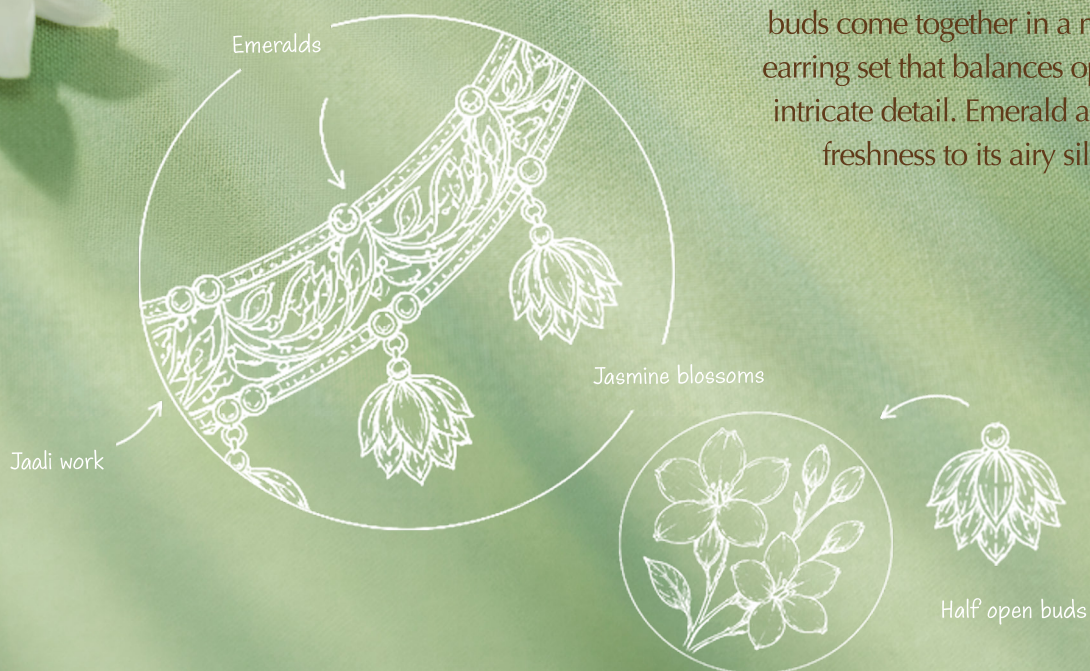

Tanishq Malle Collection

Inspired by jasmine, a cherished symbol of beauty and celebration in South India, the Tanishq Malle Collection reimagines its graceful bloom in uncut diamonds, where nature's individuality meets timeless craftsmanship.

Jaali work, jasmine blossoms and half-open buds come together in a necklace and earring set that balances openness with intricate detail. Emerald accents bring freshness to its airy silhouette.

Delicate floral buds define this haram set, enriched with uncut diamonds, rubies, pearls and inspired stones. Arranged in rhythmic succession, the design mirrors the gentle progression of jasmine buds as they prepare to flower.

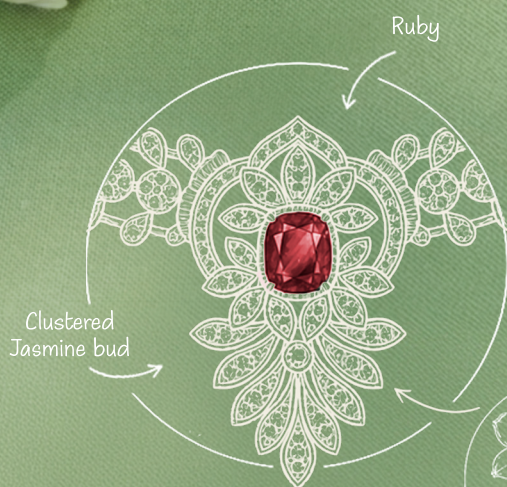

Delicately crafted floral bottus lend this Bottu Mala haram set its distinctive character, accented with uncut diamonds, rubies and pearls. Like jasmine blossoms gathered into a garland, every motif flows naturally into the next.

Strings of budding jasmine, delicate leaves and uncut diamond motifs flow effortlessly through this statement haram. Ruby accents punctuate the design like blossoms woven into a fragrant garland.

Jasmine buds bloom in gentle succession across this haram set, culminating in a statement pendant illuminated by uncut diamonds, ruby accents, inspired stones and pearl tassels. The flowing arrangement lends the design a natural sense of movement and continuity.

Inspired by strings of handwoven jasmine buds, this pair of bangles brings together ruby-set floral motifs and uncut diamonds in a seamless pattern. Every repeating element lends the design a quiet sense of movement and harmony.

A trail of winding jasmine creepers defines this pair of bangles, brought to life through intricate openwork, uncut diamonds and ruby accents. The interplay of light and negative space lends the design an airy, lace-like character.

Floral vines weave through intricate openwork in this pair of bangles, accented with uncut diamonds and rubies. The flowing pattern traces the gentle climb of a jasmine creeper, revealing new details with every turn.

Pear-shaped emeralds bloom from sculpted floral motifs in this pair of bangles, accented with uncut diamonds. Every detail reflects the layered geometry of an opening jasmine flower.

A continuous trail of jasmine buds defines this pair of bangles, enriched with uncut diamonds. Delicate repetition and intricate detailing evoke the artistry of floral adornments woven by hand.

A flowing jasmine creeper winds its way through this pair of bangles, traced with uncut diamonds that illuminate every leaf and curve. The uninterrupted pattern captures the effortless rhythm of nature as it quietly flourishes.

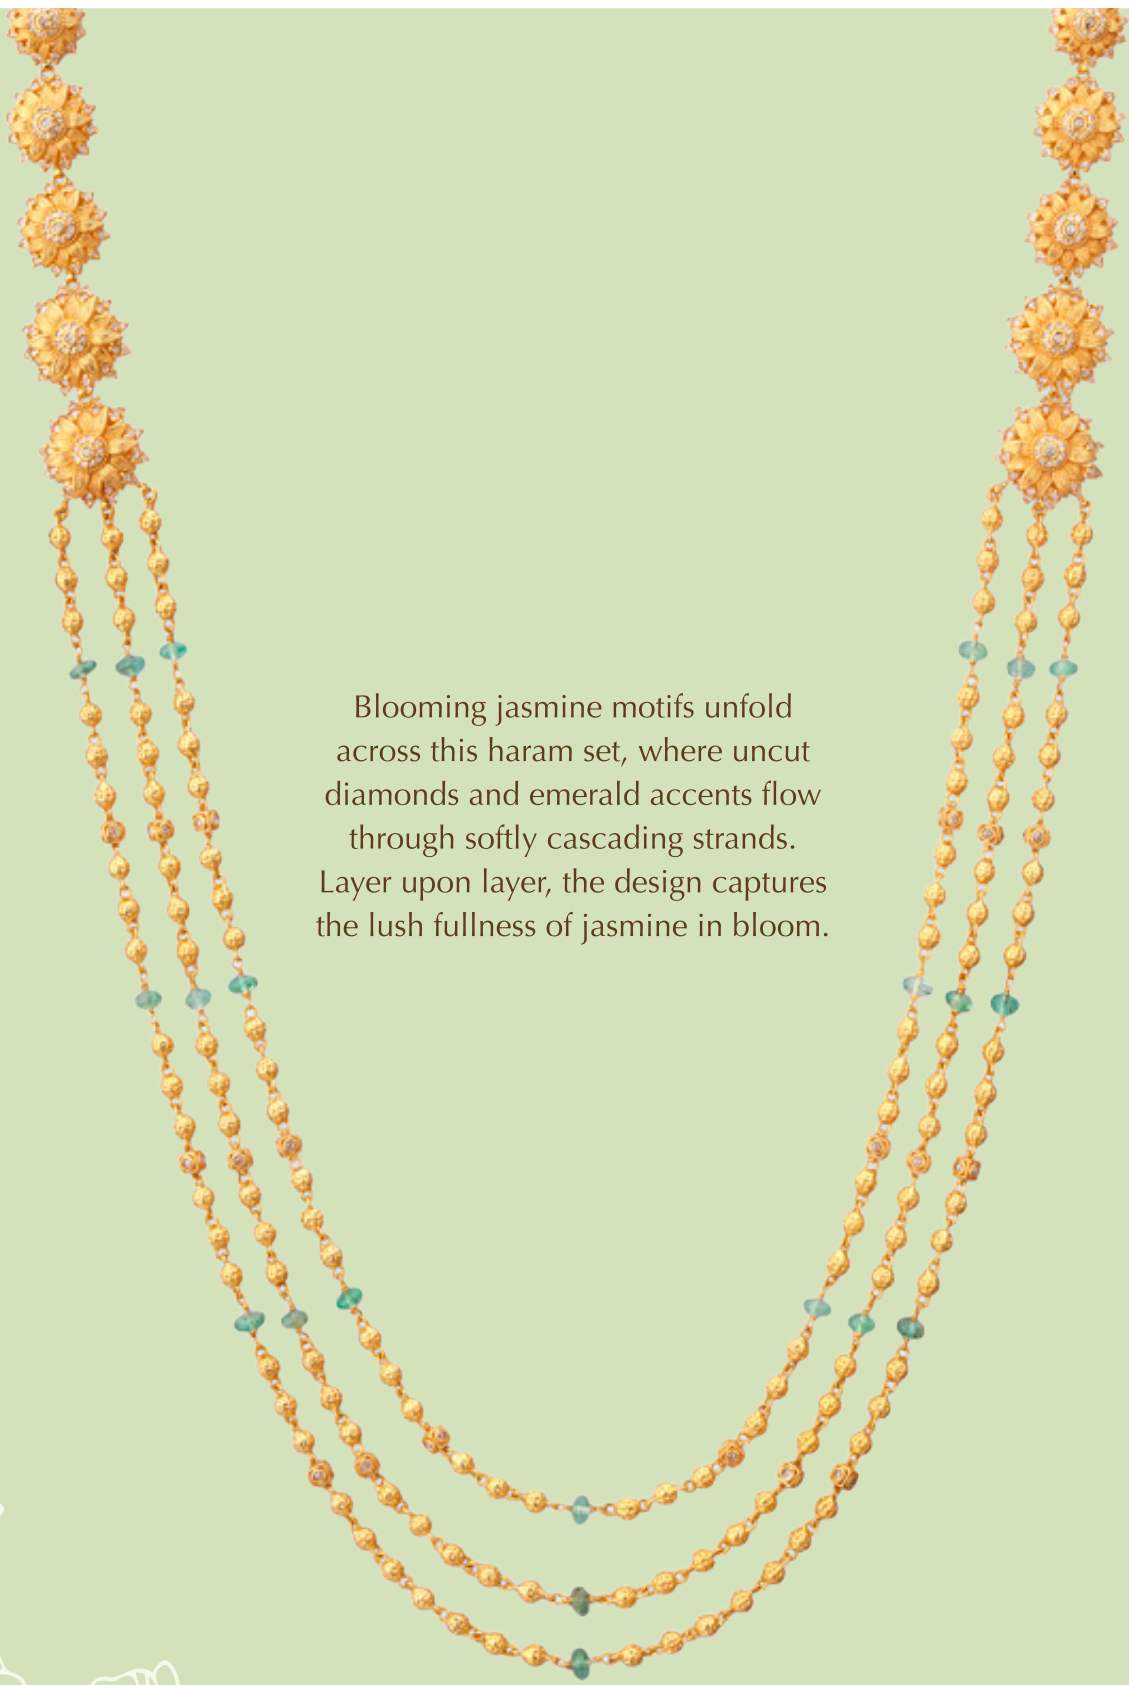

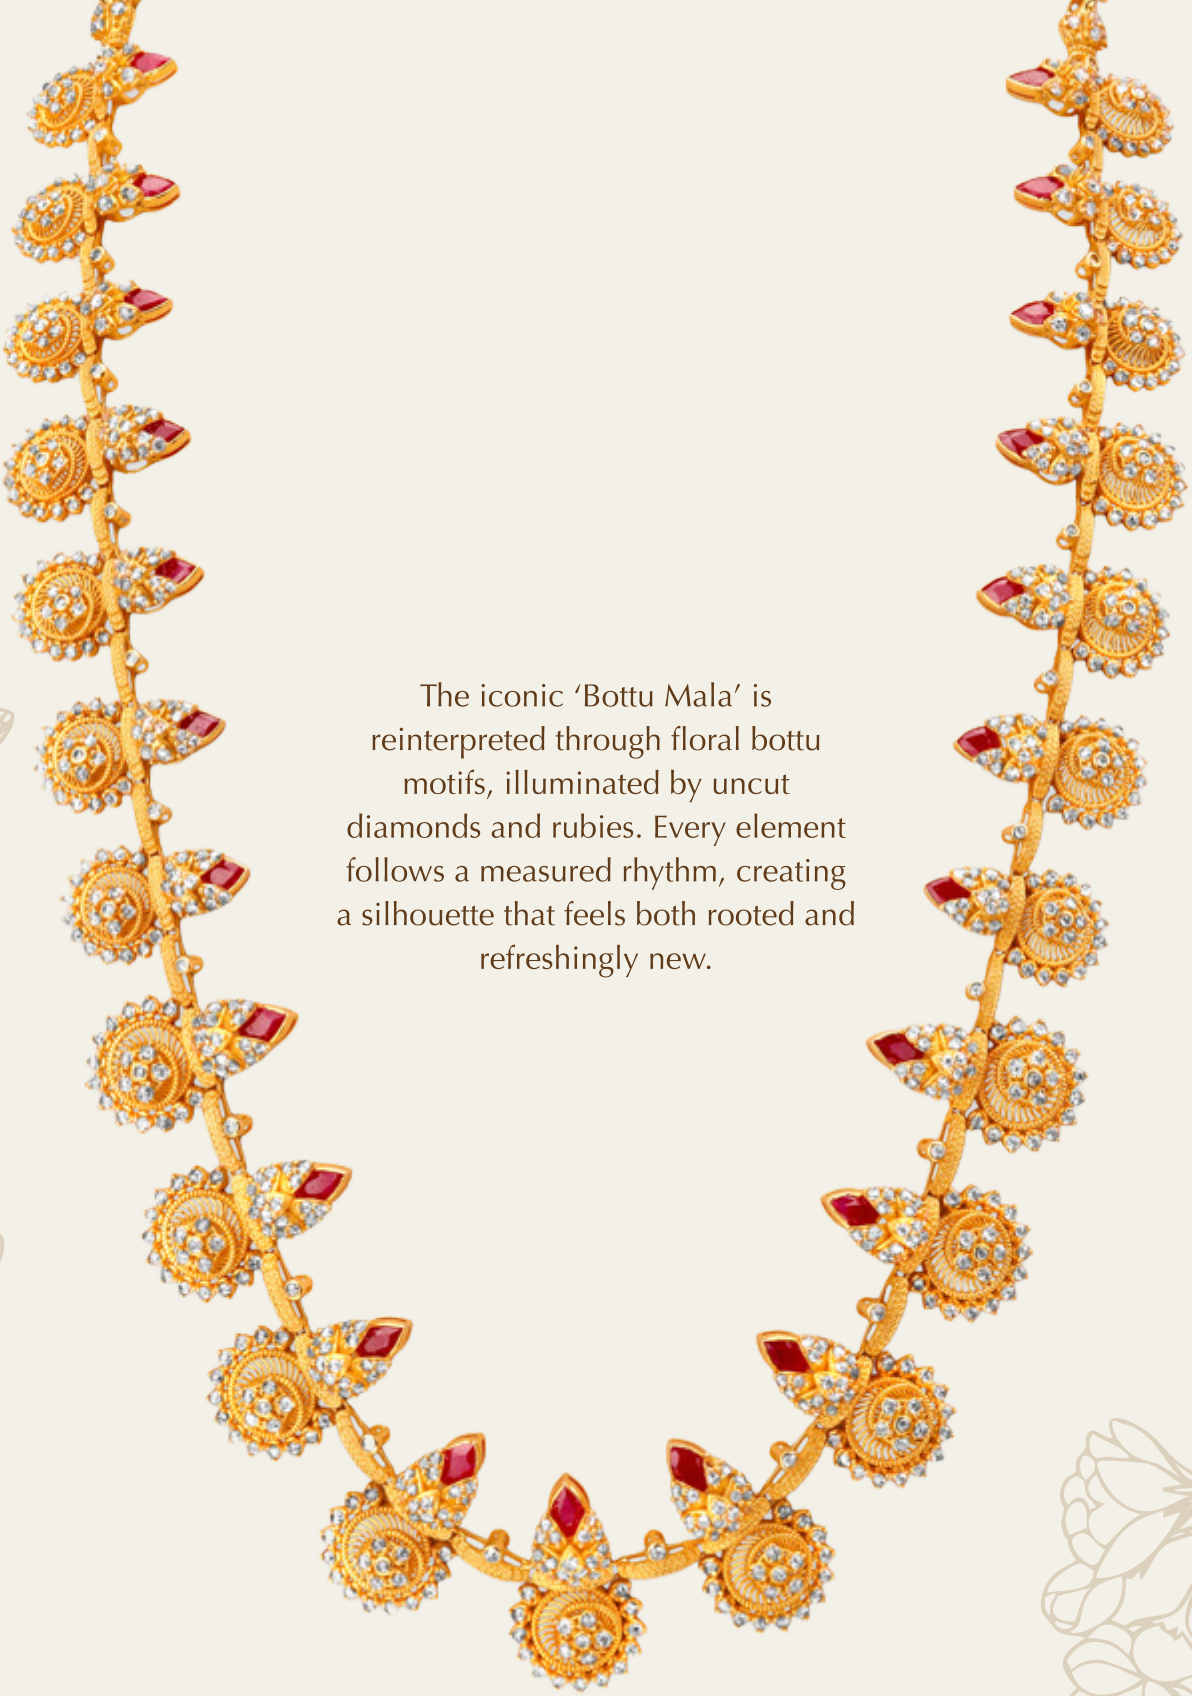

Clustered floral motifs lend this pair of bangles a sculptural silhouette, illuminated by uncut diamonds and rubies. Inspired by bunches of jasmine buds gathered along a stem, the design reveals depth through rhythm and repetition.

A rhythmic arrangement of jasmine buds and blossoms gives this haram the richness of a freshly woven garland. Emeralds and uncut diamond clusters recreate its layered fullness with light, texture and colour.

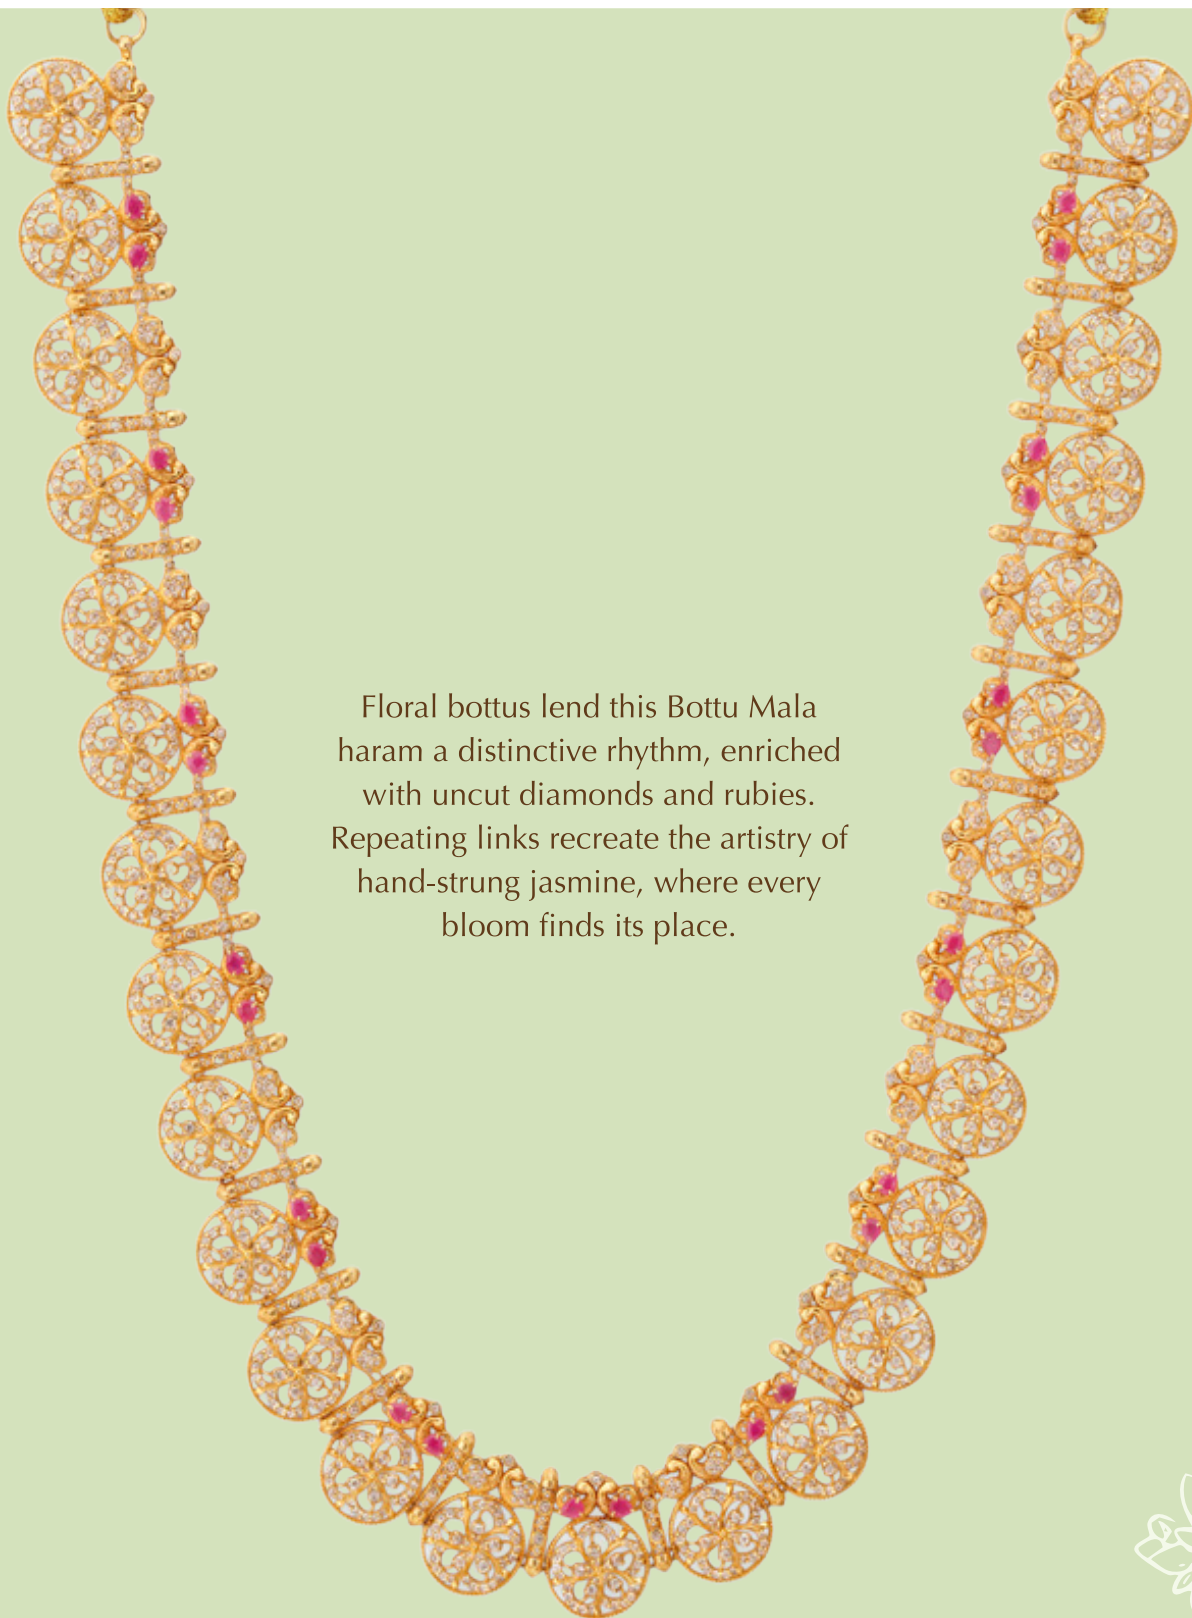

Blooming jasmine motifs unfold across this haram set, where uncut diamonds and emerald accents flow through softly cascading strands. Layer upon layer, the design captures the lush fullness of jasmine in bloom.

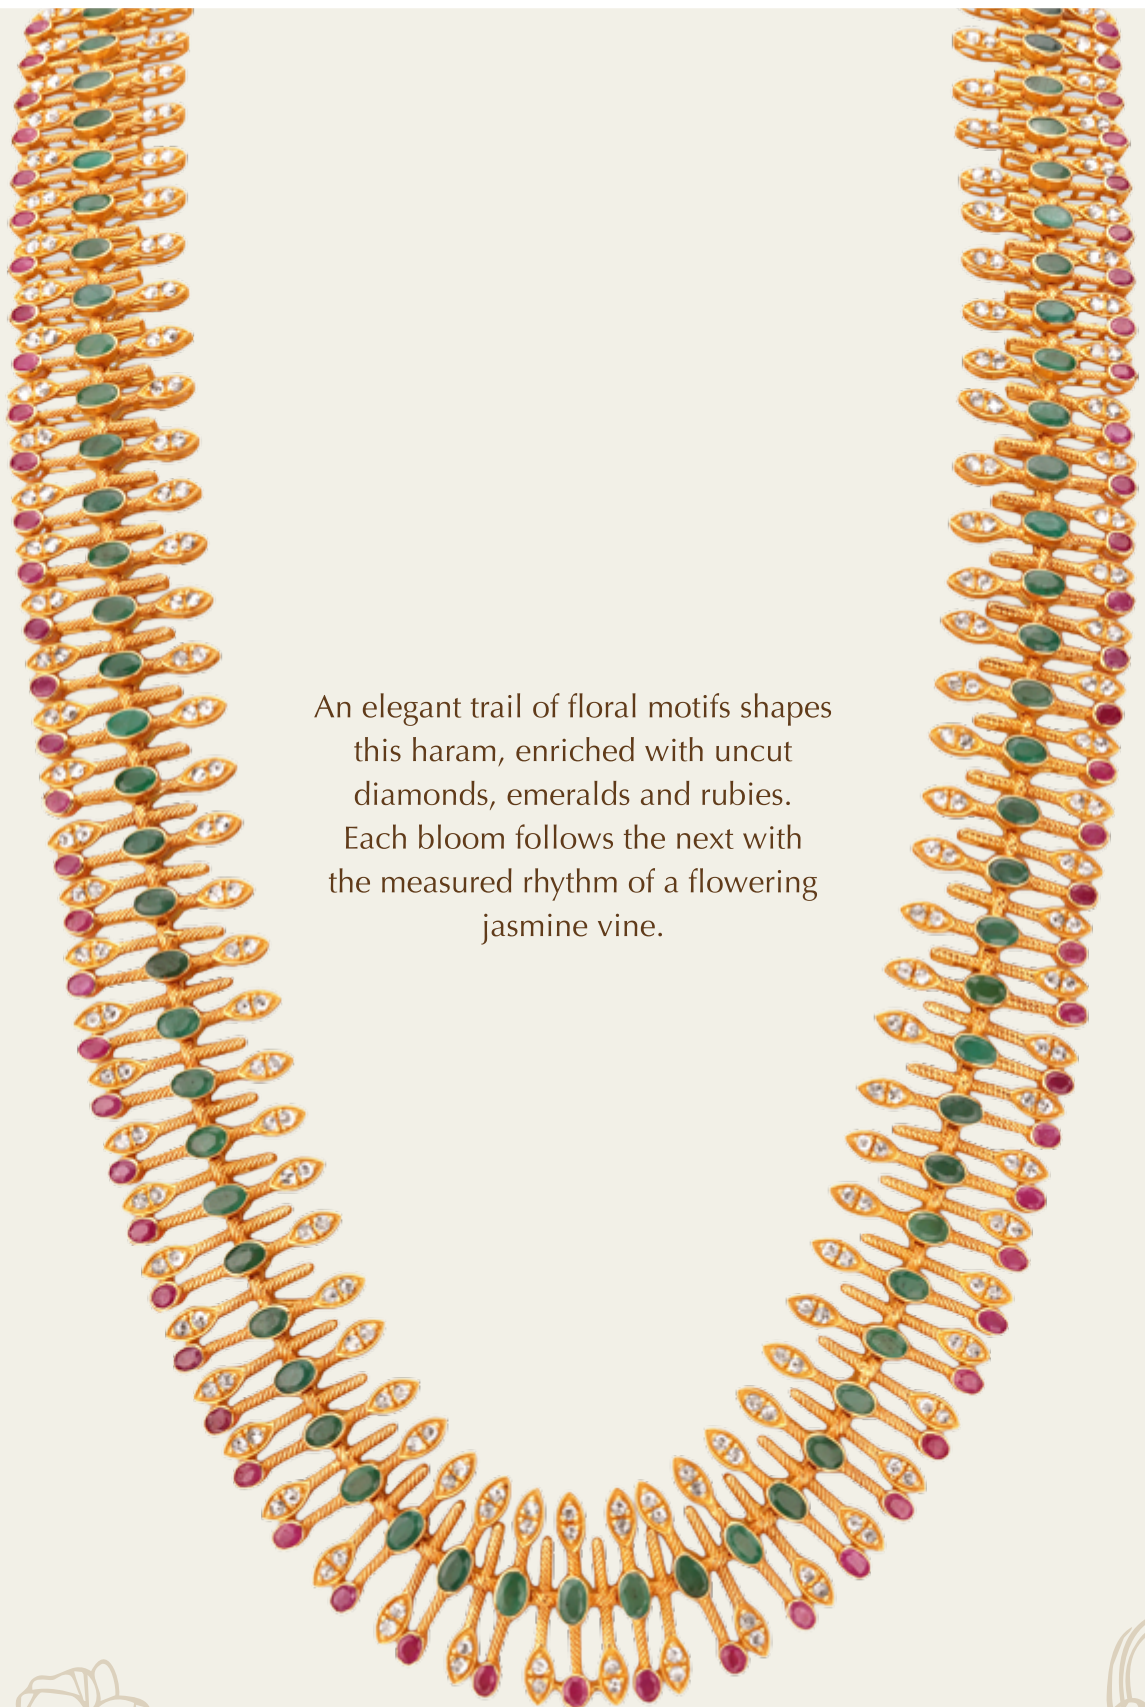

The iconic 'Bottu Mala' is reinterpreted through floral bottu motifs, illuminated by uncut diamonds and rubies. Every element follows a measured rhythm, creating a silhouette that feels both rooted and refreshingly new.

A silhouette inspired by the tender trail of a jasmine vine winds gently towards an intricately crafted centrepiece. Traditional goldwork lends the design a natural sense of movement.

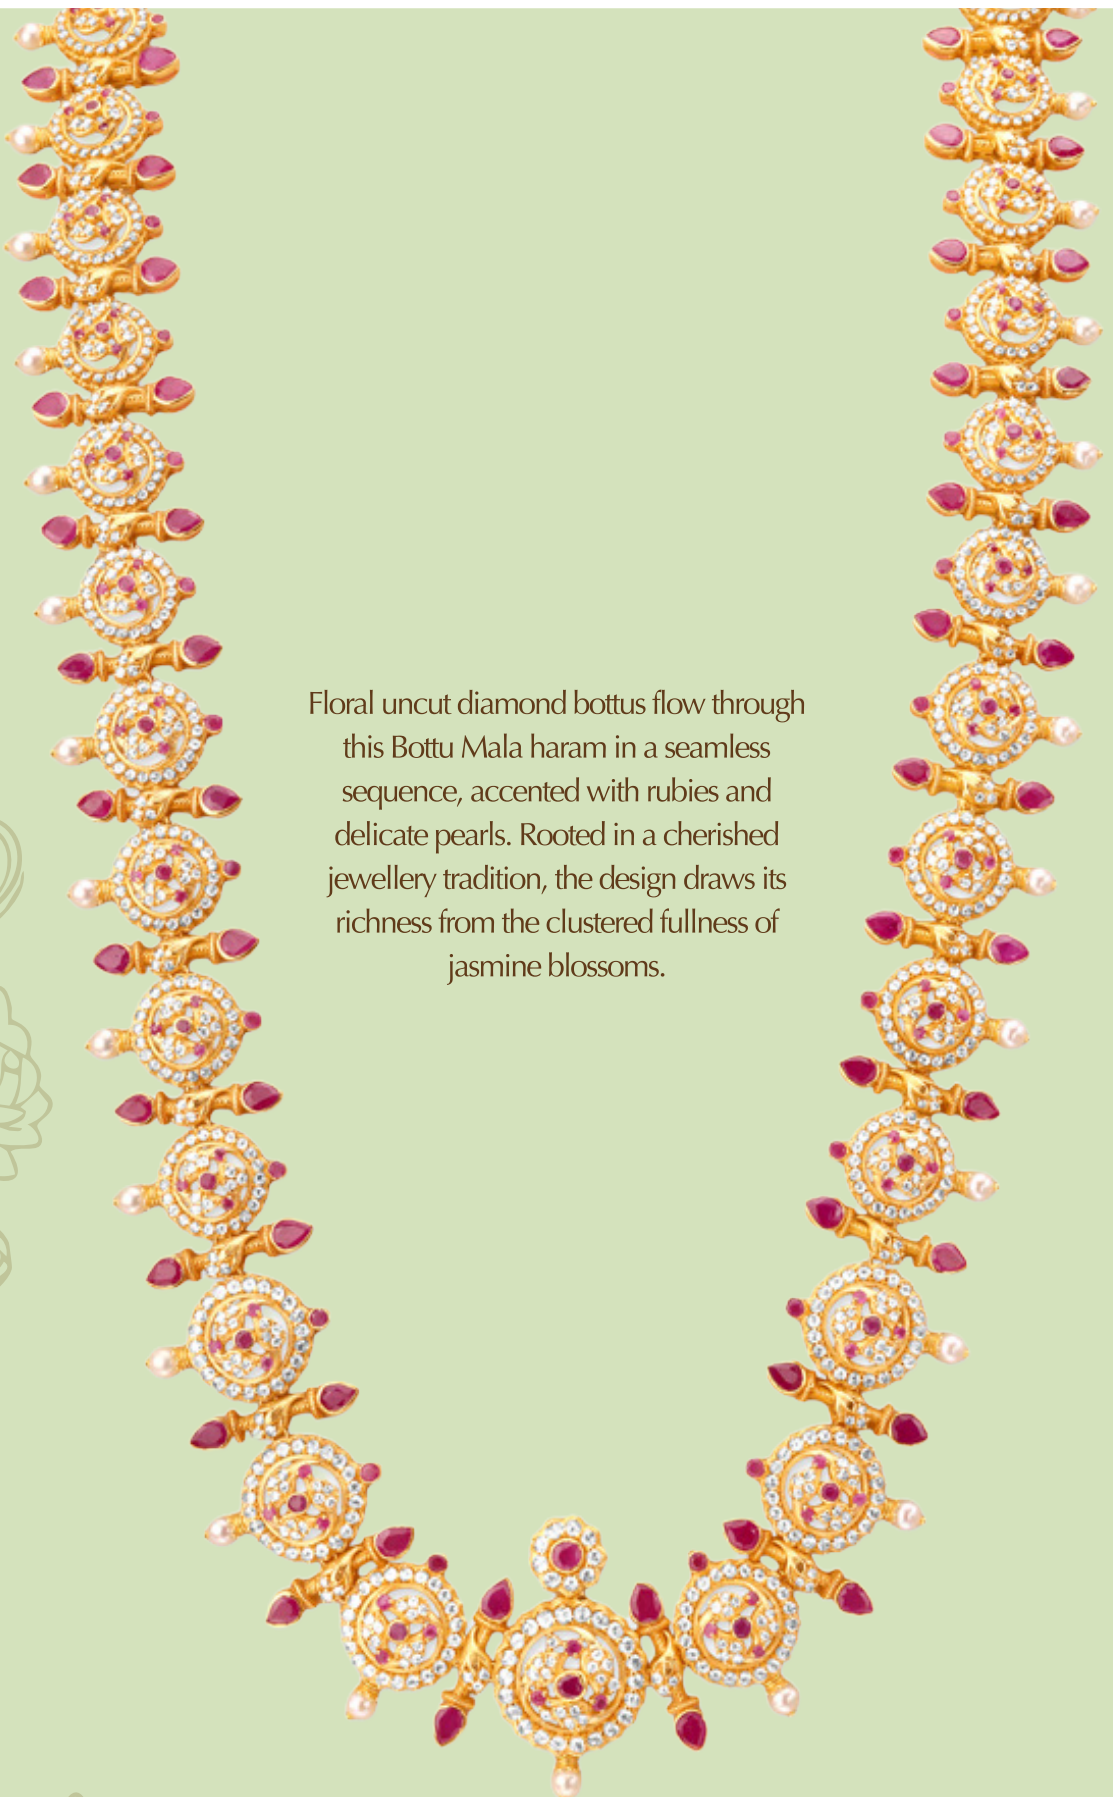

Floral bottus lend this Bottu Mala haram a distinctive rhythm, enriched with uncut diamonds and rubies. Repeating links recreate the artistry of hand-strung jasmine, where every bloom finds its place.

An elegant trail of floral motifs shapes this haram, enriched with uncut diamonds, emeralds and rubies. Each bloom follows the next with the measured rhythm of a flowering jasmine vine.

Finely crafted jaali work recreates the airy lattice of traditional jasmine adornments. Openwork detailing and layered textures lend the haram depth while allowing light to pass through every motif.

Floral uncut diamond bottus flow through this Bottu Mala haram in a seamless sequence, accented with rubies and delicate pearls. Rooted in a cherished jewellery tradition, the design draws its richness from the clustered fullness of jasmine blossoms.

Textured gold, ruby accents and pressure-set uncut diamonds recreated the delicate intricacy of handcrafted jasmine bud adornments.

Slender branches traced with pearls, ruby accents and uncut diamonds recreate the gentle rhythm of budding jasmine vines. The elongated silhouette lends the earrings a natural sense of movement.

Floral jasmine motifs bloom into airy openwork drops accented with emeralds and uncut diamonds. Their light silhouette lends itself as much to everyday dressing as it does to special occasions.

A sculpted bloom suspended from an airy openwork motif lends these earrings a light, fluid silhouette. Uncut diamonds and vibrant gemstones illuminate every petal with delicate nuance.

A circular medallion framed by delicate floral motifs forms the heart of these drop earrings. An emerald at the centre stands as a distinct design choice, while the layered symmetry recreates the bloom of jasmine in uncut diamonds.
